

NIKOLAOS PORFYRIS

Deputy Chief Operating Officer, Athens Exchange Group

Dr. Nikolaos Porfyris is currently Deputy Chief Operating Officer at Athens Exchange Group. He has been with the Athens Exchange Group since 1998 in a number of positions, as Head of Research, Director of Business Development of Derivatives Market, Director of International Affairs and Director of the Central Registry.

He has been in the securities industry since 1993 with previous appointments with Fimat- Societe Generale Group and HSBC James Capel as quantitative analyst, derivatives analyst and research and dealing, respectively.

He is holder of a first class BS in Physics (University of Athens), PhD in Electrical Engineering (University of Edinburgh) and MBA (Edinburgh University Management School). His previous working experience include research in the area of Microelectronics and process engineering.