A2. QUARTERLY SUBSCRIPTIONS

SHARES

The companies whose shares are listed in the ‘Big Cap’, ‘Mid & Small’, ‘Low Liquidity, Marketability and Special Trading Characteristics’ and ‘Under Surveillance’ Market Segments are obliged to pay to ATHEX quarterly subscriptions in advance.

The minimum amount for shares listed in the ‘Mid & Small Cap Market’, cannot be less than €1,000 or more than €8,000 annually.

The quarterly subscriptions are calculated based on the category in which the listed company’s shares have been traded in the last 45 days prior to the end of the quarter.

The calculation of the subscription owed, is made according to the following scales:

Big Cap Market (€)	% on the share value
Up to 2,935,000	0.01 %
2,935,001 - 8,800,000	0.008 %
8,800,001 - 14,600,000	0.006 %
14,600,001 - 29,350,000	0.004 %
29,350,001 - 58,690,000	0.003 %
58,690,001 - 147,730,000	0.002 %
147,730,001 - 293,470,000	0.0012 %
Over 293,470,000	0.0006 %

Mid & Small Cap Market (€)	% on the share value
---------------------------------------	-----------------------------

Up to 50,000,000	0.003%
Over 50,000,000	0.0025%

Issuers the Shares of whom are traded in the “Mid & Small Cap Market”, either voluntarily or due to low liquidity, or due to limited dispersion, although their capitalization may exceed 100 million euros, according to what is specified in the Rulebook, as well as shares traded in the “Special trading characteristics segment” and “Under Surveillance” pay their subscription according to the scale of the “Big Cap” Market segment. If the securities of an Issuer are included in the “Special Trading Characteristics” Segment due to low liquidity and this low liquidity is not improved within a period of 6 months, the amount of subscriptions arising from the next quarter shall be increased by 25% and by 50% by the following semester¹¹.

Such quarterly subscriptions are fully prepaid in the beginning of each calendar quarter regardless of the days of trading of the company securities in the quarter.

The value of the company’s listed securities results from the formula:

$$\text{VALUE} = \text{NUMBER OF LISTED SHARES} \times \text{AVERAGE PRICE OF SHARE (of the last month of the previous quarter of reference)}$$

As an exception and only for the first quarterly subscription, the price of admission is considered as the average price of the share.

In case new non listed or listed shares result from the conversion of bonds to shares, what is mentioned hereinabove applies, given that the conversion of bonds to shares does not affect the price of the shares.

In case of detachment of rights and non listing of the new shares in ATHEX until the last month of the previous quarter, then in order to calculate the value of the listed securities, the average price and number of listed shares of the month prior to the detachment of the right is taken into account. In order to calculate the quarterly subscriptions, the average price for any security is determined based on the daily closing prices for each security as calculated by ATHEX. The price of the last trade, regardless of the date of the trading session on which the transaction was concluded, is considered as closing price. In case there is no “price of the last trade” the last offer price is taken. In case there is no last offer price, the last bid price is taken.

With regard to the companies that proceed to increase of share capital either with the provision of bonus shares (split) or with payment of cash the following apply:

If there has been a detachment of right at any time prior to or during the month during which the average price of shares would have been normally calculated, (e.g. from 1/10 until 31/12/1999 for the invoicing of the first quarter of 2000) and the new shares have already been admitted for trading, then the above procedure is followed. However, if the new shares have not yet been admitted for trading, (i.e. during the month that constitutes the base of the calculation of the subscription) then the quarterly subscription of the specific company shall be calculated based on the average price and number of listed shares in the month preceding the date of detachment of the right.

In case the share capital increase foresees both the provision of bonus shares and the payment of cash, and only the shares of the first category have already been admitted to trading we follow the procedure of the previous § without taking into account the listing of the bonus shares. The same stands vice versa, i.e. if the listing of shares with payment of cash takes place first.

DEPOSITORY RECEIPTS ON TRANSFERABLE SECURITIES

The issuers pay quarterly subscriptions determined as follows:

¹¹ The last sentence of this paragraph has been added through ATHEX BoD Resolution n°21/17.7.2008

- a) 0.002%, for value of the total listed, does not exceed €600,000.
- b) 0.001% for any amount in excess of €600,000.

The minimum amount of the quarterly subscription is set out at 100 €

The value of the listed transferable securities based on which the above amounts are calculated, results as product of the number of listed shares times the average price of the last month of the previous calendar quarter. In case of detachment of rights and the new securities have not been listed in ATHEX until the last month of the previous quarter, then in order to calculate the value of the listed securities, the average price and the number of listed securities of the month prior to the date of detachment of the right shall be taken into account.

EXCHANGE TRADED FUNDS UNITS (ETFs)

The ETF Issuers, for the Units of each ETF that they constitute and which is admitted to trading in ATHEX, pay quarterly subscriptions of €500 each.

The aforementioned quarterly subscriptions are prepaid in total on the beginning of each calendar quarter regardless the number of trading days of the Units of each ETF in that quarter.

2. Transaction fees for proprietary trading are charged according to the attached «TABLE 2 – General Pricing Policy for Trades concluded by Members – Proprietary Traders for their own account» (hereinafter called «TABLE 2»).
3. The calculation of the proprietary trading transaction fees is based on Proprietary Trader's daily transaction volume per derivative product. More specifically, the proprietary trading transaction fee per derivative product is defined for a reference day, as the amount that corresponds, based on price intervals, to Proprietary Trader's daily transaction volume per derivative product according to «TABLE 2».
4. The relevant charge is made per product, per transaction or position depending on whether it concerns trade or close – exercise.

5. For informative reasons «TABLE 3» refers to CSD delivery fees of HELEX, under this capacity, regarding delivery of underlying values during close or exercise of derivative options.

1.3.2 Market Making Transaction Fees Calculation Procedure

The procedure for calculating, on a daily basis, Market Making Transaction Fees for per Market Maker is the following:

Step (1):

1. Transaction fees are calculated according to «TABLE 3».
2. The calculation of transaction fees is based on the daily Market Making Transaction Volume per derivative product and particularly on the daily number of contract scales and their relevant fees as stated in «TABLE 3». More specifically, the market making transaction fee per derivative product is defined for a reference day, as the amount that corresponds, based on price intervals, to Market Maker's daily transaction volume per derivative product according to «TABLE 3».
3. The relevant charge is made per contract, per transaction.
4. It should be noted that according to «TABLE 3» columns marked as «minimum» and «maximum» indicate the lower and higher Market Making Transaction Fee that is charged per derivative product per transaction based on Market Maker's daily transaction volume per derivative product.
5. If the Market Maker assumes Market Making an obligation only on Futures, the calculation of the Market Making Transaction Fee is based on Step (1) and (5) procedure and consequently Steps (2) to (4) are not taken into account (exclusive of Step (5)). If the Market Maker assumes market making obligations on Futures and Options, the calculation of the Market Making Transaction Fee is based on the procedure of Step (1) and of Steps (2) to (5).

Step (2):

Based on the daily number of market making quotes that the Market Maker has entered into the system for both Futures and Options on the same underlying value, a minimum and a maximum payable amount is calculated per Market Maker per underlying value according to the following Table.

Table of daily market making quotes per underlying value (Futures and Options)

10001	12500	40	50
12501	15000	60	80
15001		80	100

Step (3):

Based on Steps (1) and (2) the daily payable amount is calculated as follows:

- If the amount from Step (1) is less than or equal to the minimum limit of the Step (2) scale then the payable amount is the minimum limit of the Step (2) scale.
- If the amount from Step (1) is more than or equal to the maximum limit of the Step (2) scale then the payable amount is the maximum limit of the Step (2) scale.
- In every other case the payable amount is equal to the amount from Step (1).

Step (4):

1. The following discounts apply for the calculated daily payable amount of Step (3):
 - a. Based on the number of derivative products (referring to both Futures and Options) that the Market Maker has assumed market making obligations:

Market Maker in	Discount
Index Futures and Options	5%
Stock Futures and Options	5%

The above discounts are summed up according to the total number of derivative products.

- b. Based on the daily number of alerts/alarms that have been activated from the System for each Market Maker, due to non-fulfilment of market making obligations according to the following Table. The calculation of alerts/alarms is made according to the market making provisions, as they are anticipated by ATHEX BoD relevant Resolutions. More specifically, it is anticipated according to the Table below:
 - (i) Discounts, scaled according to the daily number of alerts/alarms that are activated per Market Maker, based on the relevant alert/alarm intervals, aiming to motivate Market Makers that comply with their market making obligations
 - (ii) Reduced Discounts, scaled according to the daily number of alerts/alarms that are activated per Market Maker, based on the relevant alert/alarm intervals, in case that Market Makers do not comply with their market making obligations
2. The relevant discount applies for the total number of derivative products that the Market Maker assumes market making obligations.
3. The total daily discount can not be more than 50% of the Step (3) amount.

Step (5):

1. If a Market Maker exceeds, for a derivative product that he has assumed market making obligations, the daily number of alerts/alarms that is anticipated in the Table below (subparagraph 3), then the transaction fee calculation procedure of Steps (2) to (4) does not apply for the total of the derivative products for which he has assumed the relevant obligations. It should be noted that in case the Market Maker has simultaneous market making obligations for both Futures and Options on the same underlying value, the daily number of alerts/alarms should not exceed in total the sum of the alerts/alarms on Futures and Options anticipated in the Table below (subparagraph 3).
2. In case of exceeding the daily number of alerts/alarms for a derivative product that he has assumed market making obligations, the calculation of Market Maker's transaction fee for the relevant derivative product is based on the daily transaction volume and the relevant percentage, as anticipated in the following Table, of the transaction fee charged for trades concluded by Members on behalf of clients according to paragraph 1.1 of the current Resolution.

3. In case where for a given Derivative a zero pricing policy is provided, then for this Derivative, the pricing provided by Step 5 will not apply²⁰.

²⁰ Case (3) has been set through ATHEX BoD Resolution n°6/19.3.2009
